PREMIER HARA DIES OF WOUNDS

Japanese Prime Minister Fatally Stabbed at Railroad Station in Tokio

Japanese Embassy Officials and Arms Delegation at Washington Shocked

TOKIO, Nov. 4.—(By the Associated Press).—Premier Hara was fatally stabbed in the breast today at the railroad station in Tokio.

Officials at Washington Shocked WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(By the Associated Press).—Official advices from Tokio, announcing that Premier Hara of Japan had been stabbed fatally, were received at the department today soon after press despatches.

Japanese embassy officials and members of the Japanese delegation to the armament and Far Eastern conference, received the first news from the Associated Press and were greatly depressed.

The message to the state department which was filed at 9 p. m., Tokio time, gave no details. An hour later another message filed by the American embassy at Tokio at 10 p. m., was received at the state department, announcing the death of the premier.

The assassination of Premier Hara comes at a dramatic moment when the Japanese delegation is assembling for the Washington conference and when Japan is intensely interested in the international issues in which Premier Hara has until now taken such an important part. He has been urged to head the delegation to Washington and for a time had the matter under consideration, but finally decided that his services would be better employed at home during the discussions at Washington.

He frequently addressed the Japanese diet concerning the serious work ahead for Japan at Washington, and on October 6 he expressed the view that Japan's chief aim would be to put an end to race barriers.

He later conferred with the American ambassador at Tokio and soon afterward announced at a meeting of the government party that Japan was willing to compromise on the Shantung question with China, which had long been a main subject of controversy.

Premier Hara declared in recent statements that Japan was ready to accept a limitation of her naval establishment along with the rest of the world, always keeping in mind the necessities of her national defense.

Takashi Hara had been premier of Japan since 1918 when he formed a cabinet after the fall of the Terauchi ministry, the Steyn-Kal party of which he was leader, taking control. The position of the premier and his party was confirmed by the general election in May, 1920, that party securing a great majority.

The premier had a long and distinguished political career. He was born in 1854.

Medical Examiner Requests Police to Investigate Death of Man Who Died in Local Hospital

Mystery veils the circumstances that caused the death of Edward J. Dillon, 50 years of age, said to have been a resident at 41 Rock street, at St. John's hospital late last night. Medical Examiner Thomas B. Smith today took charge of the case and requested the police to immediately start an investigation. According to meagre information obtained at headquarters of the ambulance and the police, Dillon was removed to the hospital from the Rock street address late Monday night in an unconscious condition. He died without regaining consciousness, it was stated. Dr. Smith and the police are working on the case and no definite information from them could be obtained. Attendants at St. John's hospital as well as the landlady at the Rock street address, when questioned by a Sun reporter, refused to divulge any news other than to state that "the matter is in the hands of the medical examiner and the police."

VICTIMS OF SPEED, RUM AND CARELESSNESS

(Special to the Sun)
BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Seventy-four were killed by automobiles in this state during the month of October. Frank A. Goodwin, registrar of motor vehicles, declared today that practically every one of the unfortunate was "a victim of speed, rum and carelessness."
The registrar, however, finds one crumb of comfort in the situation, for he reports that this year's record, bad as it is, is lower by seven than the number of fatal accidents occurring in the same month of last year, although there are now 50,000 more automobiles on the highways than were automobiles on the highways were registered last year.

"In comparing last year's deaths with those of this year," Mr. Goodwin said today, "another pleasing feature is found in the great reduction in the number of little children killed. Last year there were 32 children killed, and this year the number dropped to 22. The figures for adults show 51 killed this year, and 49 last year."
"The month of October, in addition to establishing a record for the present year in the number of persons killed, also brought about two other new records: one of these is the number of licenses and registrations revoked or suspended, which was 777, or more than 100 in excess of the previous record; the other was the number of operators whose licenses were revoked for operating while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. This number was 262.
"Most of the bad accidents were directly traceable to excessive speed, and in a large number of cases the operator was under the influence of intoxicating liquor. It is very apparent that there must be a general tightening up on the part of the police and of the courts, if these daily tragedies are to be avoided."

Cheap Wall Paper

GOOD LOW COST WALL PAPER?

Cheap Wall Paper is usually made on 7 oz. stock by the smaller mills. The colors used are necessarily the cheapest, as is the stock. Few mills selling cheap wall papers care to put their name on the product.

Good Low Cost Wall Paper is made on 9 oz. stock or heavier. The colors are the best obtainable for their purpose. All good wall papers bear the maker's imprint.

In buying inexpensive wall paper made on no lighter than 9 oz. stock be sure that the manufacturer's name appears on the edge.

The only way to tell whether wall paper is good or not is to test its weight and that can be done only by being shown a roll. The time to test paper is before you buy it.

Here we sell only Good Wall Paper made on 9 oz. or heavier stock and bearing the maker's name. In order that you may tell the weight of the paper we show it in sample rolls.

We deliver paper with no extra charge.

MR. TOYE PUZZLED OVER HOLIDAY

Is Nov. 11 a holiday or not a holiday? That was the question that puzzled Geo. Toye, assistant clerk of the district court this morning. Mr. Toye had been recording continued cases to that date when a reporter advised him that Nov. 11, Armistice day, may be a holiday. George at first didn't put much credit in the humble scribe's voluntary information, but an attorney immediately concurred with the judgment of the newspaperman that next Friday, will, in all probability be declared a holiday. Then the judge agreed that it looked now as though it would be a day of "no court," so Clerk Toye readily changed the date of Nov. 11 continuances to the following day.

Students of Lowell Textile school today visited the Textile exposition being held this week in Mechanics building, Boston. President Eames excused the entire student body that they might avail themselves of a chance to see the exhibit. Tickets were furnished the students through the courtesy of the National Chemical & Dyeing company.

The local school was allowed but a small space for exhibition purposes but has managed to make a fine showing thus far. Earl Hoffman, a second year student, is weaving a scarf from a pattern developed under the direction of Prof. Hermann Buchman. John Farrell, of Lowell, is demonstrating the method of analyzing a woven fabric.

Commons Favors Parley

ship of the British delegation at the armaments conference, declared Austen Chamberlain, the government leader, in the house of commons today.

Mr. Chamberlain made this declaration in speaking in the debate on the forthcoming Washington conference brought out by a resolution introduced by John Robert Clynes, Stephen Walsh, J. H. Thomas, Arthur Henderson and Thomas Shaw, laborite leaders. It read:

"That this house warmly approves of the meeting of the international conference at Washington and trusts that a supreme effort will be made to arrive at such measures as will secure a substantial and progressive reduction of the crushing burden of armaments."

The debate was opened in the forenoon when John Robert Clynes moved the resolution.

Mr. Clynes explained that his motion was not offered with any idea of raising a harmful controversy. The world, said Mr. Clynes, is indebted to America for the convening of the conference. The League of Nations was incomplete for its purpose, he thought, and he regarded America, in relation to this conference, as having taken a step to carry out the main principles and objects sought to be obtained by the league.

The conference, said Mr. Clynes, was in no sense in competition or in opposition to the league.

"Unless the conference dealt with causes of armaments there was little hope of any reduction," declared the labor leader, who at another point said:

"We cannot trust to alliances based on present or past friendship and resting on any material or economic interest. These alliances are not trustworthy. They have failed us in the past and there is growing conviction that great international interests must be considered in common and that the future progress and good will of mankind can be secured only by the great nations of the world all uniting for the future peace of the world."

Sir Donald Maclean, liberal, in the unavoidable absence of Mr. Asquith, the liberal leader, seconded the motion for the resolution.

"We are proudly conscious and grateful that in summoning this conference and taking the initiative in it," he said, "our sister nation, the United States, was moved by no mean or selfish motive, but was actuated by a sincere desire to bring about a better state of things in connection with world armaments." He felt certain, he added, that the conference was, in no sense in competition with the League of Nations.

George N. Barnes, former labor party chairman, who was a member of the British delegation at the Paris peace conference and was strongly interested in the formation of the League of Nations, said that if America were a member of the league there would be no need of a separate conference. The great need of the moment, however, he thought, was that the peoples of the world should be brought into closer touch with the great issues involved. Hugh O'Neill, speaker of the Ulster parliament, declared that without America, the League of Nations could not be the great instrument for the peace of the world which had been hoped. Consequently, humanity turned to the Washington conference which he trusted would give the same results as had been hoped for from the league.

Austen Chamberlain, the government leader, who said President Harding's invitation to the conference had been welcomed in England with a unanimity and thankfulness difficult to express in words, added that the acceptance of the invitation was in no sense hostile or derogatory to the League of Nations.

"We shall, I hope, find in Washington," he said, "that determination to overcome difficulties which will enable the nations of the world to fulfill the purpose of the president when he summoned the conference to limit armaments and assure peace."

Premier Confers With King

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(By the Associated Press)—The prime minister had an audience with the king at Buckingham palace last evening. This was not due to developments in the Irish negotiations, but followed the customary practice that the premier see the king on his return to London from Sandringham. It is believed, however, that Mr. Lloyd George reported to the king on the progress of the negotiations. There was no meeting of either the full conference or the committee yesterday and no definite arrangements for the next meeting have been made.

Members of the Sinn Fein confirm the announcement that Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, is coming to London on the government's invitation to consult with the ministers only, but they say that no mere technicalities will be allowed to prevent the Irish delegates from meeting Sir James, should it be so decided.

MOTHER!

Your Child's Bowels Need
"California Fig Syrup"

WHITE QUEEN MAKES NATIVES BELIEVE

As governor, magistrate, teacher and missionary, Mrs. M. Zabel has cleaned up the Island of Badi in Torres Straits, near Australia. She rules by virtue of appointment by the Queensland government. She has banned booze and is shown presiding as judge, with two native councillors, at the trial of a liquor smuggler.

Miss M. Bayington Tells How Cuticura Healed Her Scalp

"I was troubled with a scalp trouble for several weeks. It broke out in pimples and my hair fell out. My head itched and burned a great deal. I tried different remedies without success. I saw Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised and sent for a free sample which helped me. I purchased more, and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Marian Bayington, Prentiss, Maine, Feb. 27, 1921.

Keep your skin clear by using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for every-day toilet purposes and Cuticura Talcum to powder and perfume. Wash with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Before bathing, touch pimples and itching, if any, with Cuticura Ointment. Dry and dust lightly with Cuticura Talcum, a powder of fascinating fragrance.

SHIP'S MASQUOT

Ming Toy, Chinese chow dog, has a 21,000-ton cradle to rock her to sleep when she gets tired playing with the juvenile passengers of the Admiral liner Keystone state of which she is mascot. Toy's is a sad life, however, for she strikes up ardent affections only to have them shattered when her children playmates troop ashore at the voyage end.

ELECTION RETURNS KEEP PHONES BUSY

From state or national campaign managers, who sit at the center of a veritable network of wires, down to the interested citizen who calls up his local newspaper or the headquarters of his political party to find out how some particular candidate has fared, the public has learned to depend upon the telephone system and upon the personnel behind it as an essential part of the machinery of a modern election.

Newspapers put on extra employees to handle the queries that are telephoned to them, often installing extra telephone extensions for the purpose. Special wires are run to theatres, to clubs, and to political headquarters. The ordinary "peak load" which the central office is called upon to handle mounts to an enormous number of calls per hour. In Boston alone during a recent election the connections for the day totaled 1,500,000, requiring the services of 2000 operators to handle them. Even heavier traffic is recorded in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia during an important election. A tremendous burden is placed upon the operators at Washington, which is naturally the center of political interest during the closing hours of a campaign. Even in the smaller cities and villages and on rural lines there is a large increase in telephone traffic on election night.

For this sudden increase in traffic careful provision must be made. For days before every election, for weeks before an important state or a national election, traffic managers spend much of their time in preparation for the emergency. A careful study is made of traffic records for previous years, of the current data as to the number of subscribers, and even of the issues involved in the election, which may have a bearing on the interest of the public in it. Consequently on the probable number of calls that may be expected. With this information at hand, provision is made for extra operators, and arrangements are made for special service in the lunchrooms and cafeterias, so that the strain on the force may be reduced to a minimum. Often additional switchboard positions must be installed.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON DOES IT THIS WAY

Last year, a big problem was put up to Sir Thomas Lipton, founder of the great business having the largest sale of tea in the world.

A reduction in tea prices was necessary. Should he reduce the quality in keeping with the lowered price? Sir Thomas Lipton's decision was immediate and unchangeable.

He would cut the price—but not the quality, NEVER!

Gold Label quality was adopted as standard for Lipton's well-known Yellow Label Brand, and in addition the price was reduced.

That's why Lipton's Yellow Label Brand of tea is not only the finest tea but also the finest value in the world today.

Ask your grocer for Lipton's Yellow Label Tea. If he does not sell it, send us his name and address and we will mail you a FREE sample and give you the name of a grocer who can supply you. Thomas J. Lipton, Inc., Hoboken, N. J.

HOW ABOUT THE ZAIN ADVERTISING CONTEST? Have You Sent Your Ad In Yet?

"Possession" Is the Best Photoplay Yet Made in France

BY JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—"Possession" is the first French-made photoplay shown in this country which takes rank with the best of American pictures.

It is Louis Mercanton's version of Sir Anthony Hope's "Phroso." The American distributors changed the title on the probable assumption that nobody in this benighted land had ever heard of Sir Anthony Hope or his novel.

Few Folks Have Gray Hair Now

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Adv.

Mercanton proves himself a master director. The plot of the play advances with a smoother continuity of action than marks the usual photoplay. At that, this film has 15 principal characters and is 850 feet long. There is no let down in interest once the plot begins to unfold.

An English lord buys an island in the Aegean Sea. The natives rise up against him since the sale deprives Phroso, niece of the former ruler, of her sovereignty.

The uprising is led by her cousin who wanted to marry her. It mattered not to him that he already had a wife.

The uprising is led by her cousin treachery, casts her lot with that of the Englishman.

A Turkish Pasha subdues the uprising, but imprisons Phroso whom he covets.

There are secret passages and deep-dyed villas and many hand-to-hand encounters to stir the blood. The villains meet their just reward and the virtuous find safe haven. Phroso marries the Englishman.

Those secret passages were through subterranean caves where stalactites and stalagmites cast eerie shadows. One of the secret hiding places of the natives was in the Eagle Nest, a huge cave high in a sheer wall of stone.

I have never looked upon a scene in any motion picture comparable to the far shot of this cave for magnitude of setting and magnitude of background. Humankind in the cave appeared like wild bees in a tree trunk.

Nine nationalities are represented in the cast of "Possession." Malvina Longfellow, heroine, is an American actress who has achieved success in Europe. Reginald Owen, the hero, is an Englishman. Raoul Paoli, a giant Turk, plays the part of a strong man. Louis Mondis, French comedian, is a valet, the comic hero.

This Man Mercanton

"Morals," adapted from "The Morals of Marcus" by William J. Locke, will be May McAvoy's next vehicle. Sidney Franklin, who is to alternate as director for Norma and Constance Talmadge, is still in his twenties.

Urge Adjustment of War Debts

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Steps toward reaching an adjustment of war debts between allied nations are urged in resolutions sent to the chancellor of the exchequer by the British national committee of the international chamber of commerce. The resolutions which were adopted unanimously by the committee advocated the "desirability of negotiations in order to obtain the benefits which, in the committee's opinion, would accrue if the war debts of the allies to Great Britain were reduced or cancelled on terms to be agreed upon." The committee comprises leading representatives of financial, industrial and commercial interests.

Viscount Grey to Marry Lady Glenconner

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Announcement of the engagement of Viscount Grey of Fallodon, former secretary of state for foreign affairs, and Lady Glenconner will be made soon, it was declared by the Daily Sketch this morning. Lady Glenconner is a sister-in-law of Mrs. H. H. Asquith. Her husband, who died last November, was an intimate friend of Viscount Grey.

PHILADELPHIA LADY RELIEVED OF NERVOUS INDIGESTION

Others Testify to Wonderful Virtues of World-Renowned Medicine

"Let anyone who may question the truth of my claims for Wincarnis come to me and I will soon dispel all their doubts," said Miss Helen Miller, who lives at 10 W. Thompson street, Philadelphia, recently.

"A year ago I had a very bad spell of nervous indigestion and although my doctor did all he could for me, nothing he gave me relieved me of the dreadful attack.

"I lost my appetite, I could not sleep, my nerves for worse and I rapidly lost weight.

"I had read about your wonderful tonic Wincarnis—for wonderful it certainly is—and I decided to give it a trial. Its effect was truly wonderful. Almost immediately my appetite came back and soon I was able to get a refreshing night's sleep. My nerves grew steady, my indigestion disappeared and I began to put on flesh. In fact, I gained 8 pounds while taking Wincarnis."

Mr. Jos. Miller, a business man of 42 Chandler street, Worcester, Mass., who was in a nervous and run-down condition when he started taking Wincarnis, says:

"I really cannot praise Wincarnis too highly as a tonic and nerve-builder, for it certainly did me a world of good. I always keep it in the house, for Mr. Miller also finds it beneficial whenever in a nervous condition. I often recommend it to my friends as a preparation unusually high in merit and reasonable in price."

Mrs. A. A. Choate of 24 Nelson place, Newark, N. J., writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to speak a good word for Wincarnis, for it certainly proved a wonderful friend indeed at a time of great weakness caused by the Grippe. It was just what I needed for it quickly enabled me to get a good night's sleep and regain my usual health."

If you are weak, nervous, shaky, irritable, sleepless—unfit for either work or play; sick in body and spirit and finding life a burden—you owe it to yourself to give Wincarnis a trial.

Wincarnis has been recommended as a meritorious general tonic, restorative, blood-maker and nerve-strengthening by more than 10,000 physicians, whose letters the manufacturers have on file.

Wincarnis is put up in two sizes—$1.10 and $1.05.

Wincarnis is sold by all first class druggists. Write for free instructive booklet, "Hundred Per Cent Health. How to Obtain It," to Edward Lassarre, Inc., Dept. E, 400 West 23 st., New York, U. S. Agents for Wincarnis.—Adv.

READY-TO-WEAR OVERCOATS

Made in my own shop during the dull months of August and September. There are times in a tailor shop when coat makers get caught up—as they call it—and it is a case of lay him off or give him something to do. I don't want to lay off my men, neither can I afford to pay them for idle hours. The making of READY-TO-WEAR Overcoats solves the problem. The plan enables me to quote lower prices for made-to-measure and to sell ready-to-wear for less than actual cost. All these garments are Hand Tailored, some are all lined, others are one-half satin lined. I have them in one-half belts, whole belts, with patch and bellows pockets, vesterette, plain and raglan effects. From what I have seen in store windows, the lowest grade of these coats would retail around $30 to $35.

Spurs Distributors to Act

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Spurred by Health Commissioner Copeland's threat to take over the entire milk distributing industry in New York unless 50 per cent of the normal supply was furnished by Saturday, distributors today continued efforts to fill the places of more than 10,000 striking employees and to serve the public through district depots.

More than 4,000 new workmen already have been employed, the milk conference board announced and others, recruited from rural districts are operating pasteurization plants. The board asserted it would have to per cent of the city's normal milk supply available for consumers at distribution centers today.

The employers remained adamant in their stand for open shop conditions in the future.

Numerous minor disorders were reported by the police yesterday. About 20 arrests were made.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 4.—Both sides having agreed to arbitrate the wage reduction settlement of the strike of 600 milk wagon drivers here hinged today on the question of open or closed shop.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Defendant Fined $100 for

Selling Jamaica Ginger—

Other Cases

For selling Jamaica ginger, George Elias was fined $100 by Judge Enright in district court today. He asked to be allowed a few days in which to pay and the court set as his time limit, Nov. 12. According to Sgt. Winn and Officer Kenney, of the liquor squad, Elias sold two two-ounce bottles of the fluid for 10 cents each last night.

Frank Siska, of Lakeview avenue, will have until Nov. 12 to restore a fence he is alleged to have torn down around the property of William Koyulis, on that same street this week. Such was the advice of the court to him this morning, or he'll suffer the consequences, the judge added. Siska, charged with maliciously injuring a fence, is alleged to have seized an axe and torn down the fence after Koyulis, who recently purchased the property, ordered him to move out.

The defendant told the court he had resided at that address four years and about two years ago put up this fence for his own convenience, partly, although the former owner promised to pay him something. This he failed to do, he said. The justice stated that Siska's troubles are with the former landlord and that a wrong probably done the defendant by him is no justification for the accused to injure a third party. The fence, no matter who built it, the court said, was on the premises and went with the house when the sale was made. Siska thought he would start putting up the fence again this afternoon.

A little row between three women resulted in one being fined $20 today, the court finding her guilty of assault and battery. The accused thought her sister had been done an injustice by a man, but the court ruled that was no reason for her taking the law in her own hands. Two weeks' time to pay the fine was given.

The marriage of Mr. James McKeon and Miss Helen Neville took place late yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at St. Peter's rectory by Rev. Francis L. Shea. Mr. Edward Lynch was best man, while the bridesmaid was Miss Julia Neville. The bride wore a blue traveling suit with gray picture hat and carried bridal roses, while the bridegroom was attired in a brown traveling suit with black picture hat and carried Killarney roses. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Whipple street. After an extended wedding trip the couple will make their home at 49 Whipple street.

ARGENTINA'S STATUS

Demand in Congress to Find Out if Country is Member of League

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 4.—The failure of President Yrigoyen's administration to give an official explanation of Argentina's status in respect to membership in the League of Nations has been taken up in congress in the course of a debate on the government budget and a demand has been made that the budget committee report whether Argentina is a member of the league.

The question was raised by Deputy de Tomaso, a socialist, who wanted to know why, if Argentina was a member of the league, the assessment levied upon the nation as its contribution to the league's expenses and as yet unpaid, had not been included in the budget. He said congress had never been informed by the government as to the status of Argentina's relation to the league since the withdrawal of its delegation from the assembly in 1920 after the refusal of that body to consider Argentina's amendment making all sovereign states automatically members of the league.

Unsuccessful in getting the budget committee to agree to report on the subject, Deputy de Tomaso announced that at an opportune moment he intended to demand the appearance of Foreign Minister Pueyrredon before the chamber to explain Argentina's position.

The silence of the government in this respect the past year has been the subject of frequent criticism by almost all the newspapers which have repeatedly demanded clarification of the question and have also pointed to the failure of Argentina to pay its dues. They asked whether the government did not intend to pay these dues on the ground, once reported, that Argentina never considered herself a member of the league.

It was only recently that Foreign Minister Pueyrredon publicly threw any light on the subject, when, in a statement to the Associated Press correspondent, he explained that since the retirement of the delegation from the assembly last year, Argentina had been "waiting outside the door of the league" for promised consideration of its proposed amendments at the meeting of the assembly this year.

He said that Argentina could not logically withdraw from the league itself until such consideration had been given. The rejection of the Argentine amendments by this assembly would mean Argentina's definite withdrawal, he said.

Diplomatic circles expect the government will send official notification to the league of its withdrawal just as soon as formal notice of the rejection of the Argentine amendments by the assembly is received from the secretariat and that the dues will be paid.

The League of Nations postponed action on the Argentine amendment in its last session.

OUST THE "PRETTY MAN"

Farmer Boy and Printer's Devil to Have Pictures on Magazine Pages

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The farmer boy, the printer's devil and the workaday clerk are going to have their pictures on the billboards and magazine pages this winter. They will replace some of the swapper young men who have been posing several seasons for the artists hired by collar and clothes manufacturers. Not a few of these concerns have concluded that the orchard is not the flower of young American manhood, and they are going in for sunflowers.

They say the buying public doesn't like the pink-cheeked men who have been showing the readers of advertisements what to wear. They seem to have nothing to do but watch polo ponies, indifferently peer at yachts in the cove or ignore the football players on the field below them in order to swap small talk with girls in vivid sweaters and sport skirts.

People began calling them pretty boys, cake eaters, lounge lizards, sissies. Humorists poked fun at them and the good old common people who bought most of the collars and suits said: "If that's the kind of a face you have to have to be well dressed, I'll go through life a clouch."

But now they are going to show the public that one can be a regular everyday fellow with a job and still be smartly clothed. Last winter there was a warm discussion within the National Association of Retail Clothiers as to the public attitude toward the "pretty men" in advertisements. This fall the result of this discussion is apparent. Recently the new catalogue of a nationally-known clothing house was published without a single ball-room scene, bridge party or clubhouse etching. Virile settings supplanted them.

There was a drawing of an old tar talking to two sturdy youths beside a ship, a freighter. It was not a palatial passenger carrier. Another showed a well-dressed office worker working. He was within sound of a printing press. A third pictured a farmer dressed up for a trip into town. He wore a business-like mien and apparently was just giving some final instructions to the hired man on the tractor when the artist happened along.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Paralint (double strength) and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and it is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

GAVE LECTURE ON CANCER

Dr. J. Arthur Gage Delivers
Interesting Lecture on Important Subject

Meeting Held at City Hall
Was Opened by Mayor
Thompson

Aldermanic Chamber Packed
With Nurses, Hospital
Officials and Others

Cancer, its symptoms, prevention and cure, and many other vital facts in connection with the dread disease, were the subject of an unusually interesting and well delivered lecture by Dr. J. Arthur Gage at city hall last night. The sideboard chamber, with extra chairs placed in every available inch of space throughout the room, was still too small to accommodate the throng of nurses, hospital officials, attendants and other interested persons who were desirous of hearing this absorbing subject discussed, and when the lecture began there were crowds standing in both doorways and in the adjoining anteroom and corridor. It showed beyond a doubt that a knowledge of this subject is being eagerly sought at the present day, and the local committee in charge of Cancer Week were deeply gratified.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson opened the meeting. He expressed his pleasure at being present to open, in his official capacity, the local cancer week, and expressed gratification that such a large gathering rewarded the efforts of those responsible for the intensive work contemplated. He introduced Dr. J. Arthur Gage as the speaker of the evening in a few laudatory remarks.

Dr. Gage opened by thanking the mayor on behalf of the committee for his courtesy and evidence of interest in the worthy movement. He briefly sketched the history of the movement, which has been in motion since May 22, 1912. The neglect of symptoms in the vast majority of cancer cases is one of the chief factors in the spread of the disease which must be combated. The movement is endorsed by all large medical and surgical organizations. Its purposes are two-fold; first, to procure a greater knowledge of the disease, second, to conduct a campaign of education. The bulletins prepared by distinguished physicians and surgeons contain the most authoritative information obtainable regarding the disease. No work conduces more to the welfare of the community and there is no expense to the community. The Middlesex Women's club of this city has included the subject in their program, and placed it under the direction of its committee on diseases.

The doctor then discussed the means of avoiding cancer. If it could be removed immediately upon its discovery, if it could be recognized early, it would be robbed of most of its terrors. This fact formed the chief excuse for the address, said Dr. Gage. The subject should be of peculiar interest to women, since after forty years of age one man in fourteen on the average dies of cancer, while one woman in eight succumbs to the disease. Between the ages of thirty-five and forty-five three times as many women as men are victims.

Cancer Lawless Growth

The lecturer explained that cancer is a lawless growth of the body cells which destroys life if allowed to continue its growth. When one cuts a scab in clean skin with a clean instrument the edges close and show cleanly, and in a short time the sides are re-epithelialized by a natural process and the cells magnify and bridge the gap, thus in a short time completing the healing process, as the growing cells are perfectly adapted to restoring the tissues. The cause of this is beyond human comprehension and can simply be termed the law of growth. On the other hand, the cancer cell continues to grow and may be carried to different parts of the body.

Cancer is not a constitutional or blood disease, and great caution should be exercised that it may not be rubbed or subjected to any other irritation. It is peculiarly a local growth, beginning in a small spot which is easily removable and for that reason curable. Its ultimate cause, though long under investigation by the most learned authorities, has not yet been determined. One research worker has discovered that its growth in a species of white rats can be controlled by feeding with certain chemical substances, but this can not be regarded at the present stage as a solution of the problem. It is known, though, how the growth begins and when it begins, an important item of knowledge for both the medical profession and the laity. It usually begins after continued irritation, caused by bad teeth, holding a pipe in one spot, and many other irritating practices and by chemical chemicals such as hot rice. Heat contact is one of the most common irritants conducing to the formation and growth of cancer. It may also be started by exposure to the X-ray. Moles, warts, and other skin blemishes are a common source, as are stomach ulcers and gall stones, which should be removed immediately.

Twenty years ago certain signs and symptoms meant cancer, and led doctors to so advise their patients. To-

BIG INCREASE IN WHEAT PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Total wheat production this year of the 29 leading wheat growing countries of the world, excluding Russia, reached 2,322,525,000 bushels, or approximately 100,000,000 bushels more than in 1920, according to latest available estimates reported today by the department of agriculture. For next year's crop the department reported generally favorable conditions throughout the northern hemisphere for winter wheat sowing.

WELNERT TO MEET GREH

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Chas. Welnert of Newark, N.J., is to meet Harry Greh, Pittsburgh, in a 15-round bout tonight. Pay Kelsier, Cumberland, Md., and Young Joe Fitzsimmons, son of the late champion heavyweight, are scheduled for an eight round contest.

The Welnert-Greh affair derives its interest from the fact that both men have been clamoring for a chance at the light heavyweight title held by Georges Carpentier.

Payson Dana Strikes Back

conference in the state house, and he gave a great hand when he declared that the attacks made upon him have come from those who were "sore" because he would not permit them to put their favored friends on the lists of city employees.

He announced that he will ask the next legislature to allow an appropriation for installing a "follow-up" system, in order that his department may keep posted as to the efficiency of employees who are placed in the public service. The purpose of such a system, he said, will be to weed out the inefficient and to bring about the promotion of those who are found most capable. Such a system, he said, is already in operation in Illinois, and has proved effective.

In the course of his remarks Commissioner Dana took occasion to criticize certain named heads of state departments, alleging that they have been guilty of discrimination against the colored race. As an instance of this, he cited the case of a colored girl who passed the civil service examinations for stenographers, and obtained a rating high on the list. Her name was certified to several departments which had asked for stenographers, but each department turned her down as soon as it was found that she was colored.

Commissioner Dana said his curiosity was aroused because of the repeated rejections of one who appeared to be a highly capable applicant, and finally he began an investigation on his own hook. The officials who had rejected the girl, he said, told him with one accord that they could not employ her, the reason being that other employees would not work with her. When a vacancy arose in his own department, Commissioner Dana said he gave the position to the colored girl, and she has proven a highly capable employee who is on the best of terms with all the other girls in the department.

ITALY PAYS TRIBUTE

Unknown Soldier Finds Final

Sepulchre in Victor Emmanuel Monument

ROME, Nov. 4.—Italy's unknown soldier this morning found final sepulchre in the Victor Emmanuel monument. "The Altar of the Country," exactly under the allegorical figure representing Rome. King Victor Emmanuel and the royal family were the chief mourners in the solemn ceremony.

The body was transported from the Church of Santa Maria degli Angeli in formal procession. Crowds lined the route and massed against the marching troops so solidly that it was with difficulty that the soldiers held their positions.

The cortege at last reached Piazza Venezia, taking its place before the monument and there eight non-commissioned officers lifted the coffin from the gun carriage and carried it up the two short flights of steps to the place of burial.

The casket was then introduced into the place allotted for it and then by a hydraulic contrivance the door of heavy stone was closed. The "unknown soldier" reposed in his last resting place. At that moment bells of the various churches through the capital began pealing and artillery at the various stations in and about Rome fired salutes. The ceremony was ended.

DROPS GOVERNMENT'S DISSOLUTION SUIT

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The government's suit for dissolution of a trade association involving 12 manufacturers of lined oil was dismissed by Judge Geo. A. Carpenter in federal district court for want of equity in his decision filed today.

The suit was to decide whether trade associations may be formed for the purpose of exchanging price lists and other trade data, and was regarded as establishing a precedent, affecting the standing of 2000 other such associations throughout the country. Suit was brought as a part of the government's anti-trust prosecutions.

"Logic which assumes that because there is an opportunity to fix prices, therefore prices are fixed, is contrary to the genius and logic of our law," said the opinion.

Judge Carpenter stated the question involved was whether "there is anything inherently wrong in an agreement between producers in certain lines to furnish each other their prices and not to make any sale deviating from the price lists without immediately notifying all the others."

"Business is no longer a game but a matter of scientific calculation," said the opinion. "A merchant cannot compete with another merchant unless he knows what he has to compete against."

Since 1880, the United States and Canada have constructed 310,000 miles of surfaced roads.

LAWRENCE WOMAN IN RACE FOR MAYOR

LAWRENCE, Nov. 4.—For the first time in the history of Lawrence a woman has filed papers for the nomination for mayor. She is Miss Evelyn Smith, of 7 Jackson court.

Miss Smith was formerly secretary for Rev. Lathrop Meeker of New York, who, during his residence here a few years ago, also sought the office of mayor. Miss Smith is listed in the city directory as a social worker.

SAYS IT IS WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD

"NO WOMAN IN MASS. FEELS BETTER THAN I DO NOW," DECLARES MRS. PIERCE

"I have gained ten pounds in weight by taking Tanlac and I look so strong and well these days my friends are congratulating me on my recovery," said Mrs. A. J. Pierce, 1011 Brighton St., Boston, Mass.

"For the past three years I was so weak and run down it was an effort for me to stay up. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep, and always felt so tired I often thought I would have to give up entirely. My stomach caused me a world of trouble, and I grew so thin I couldn't eat anything but liquid foods. Even these tortured me with pains in my stomach, and often I floated with gas until I thought surely I couldn't stand it. I thought then and then and my head ached constantly."

"I spent hundreds of dollars trying to get well, but my efforts were in vain. A girl friend of mine urged me to try Tanlac, and it's simply proved to be worth its weight in gold to me. My stomach and nerves are in perfect condition, and my health and strength have been built up so much I don't feel like the same person. In fact, I just know there's not another woman in Massachusetts that feels any better than I do, and I'll gladly do anything I can to get others who need it to take Tanlac."

Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills are sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Drug Co., 111 North Main St., Lowell, Mass.; by Helmsford, Mass.; Shaw's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

DEEP BREATHING IS HEALTH PROMOTOR

By DR. R. H. BISHOP

Man is not ordinarily conscious of his breathing. It has become a habit, a necessary habit of course. He does not notice whether he breathes deeply or not. Most people do not.

Many of our most famous physicians prescribe deep breathing exercises every day, since no one actually exercises his breathing apparatus regularly unless he is an athlete accustomed to regular feats of endurance.

A Russian author, who suffered a nervous breakdown, found, after repeated experiments of many aids to health, that a retired life in the mountains in which simple deep breathing exercises taken systematically formed the principal part of the program, brought about a permanent cure.

Most working people are shut indoors throughout the day. Deep breathing is a source of great benefit to such people. They should seize the chance, whenever offered, to step outdoors and snatch a dozen or so deep breaths. One would be surprised how greatly this simple exercise will offset hours of indoor living and breathing.

Ordinarily, only about one-tenth of the lung contents is changed at each breath. In deep breathing a much larger percentage is changed, the whole lung is forced into action, and the circulation of the blood in the abdomen is more efficiently maintained.

Thus, too, is the circulation throughout the body improved, increased blood pressure due to nervous or emotional causes is lowered, also by such exercises.

be deep, slow, and rhythmic and through the nose rather than through the mouth.

An oriental breathing exercise which insures slowness and evenness of the breath consists of closing one nostril and inhaling through the other, breathing out of the first nostril in the same manner and then reversing the process. One can tell whether his breathing is regular or not by listening to the slight sound of the air as it passes through the one open nostril.

Muscular exercises are good to start deep breathing and it is well to take the two exercises together. But deep breathing by itself is also beneficial if slow.

One week of manual and agricultural training is part of the year's requirements for every schoolboy and girl in Bulgaria.

AN ANCIENT DOCUMENT HUMAN EAR EXPERIMENT

Reveals Life of Egyptians
During the Early Christian Era

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 4.—What is described as one of the most important collections of ancient documents yet discovered, consisting of more than 100 legal papers dating from the reigns of the Roman Emperors Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula and Claudius, has been brought here by Prof. Francis W. Kelsey of the University of Michigan. Prof. Kelsey spent some time in Egypt in search of records. The collection is held to be important because it reveals the life of the people during the early Christian era.

The records obtained by Prof. Kelsey constitute a part of the files of a record office in or near Theban, Egypt, and were discovered four months ago. They are written on papyrus and are chiefly in Greek, a few being Demotic. They are believed to have been covered with sand soon after the record office fell and with few exceptions are preserved perfectly.

The earliest record is dated 7 A. D. and bears the signature of a woman who agreed not to bring claim against her brothers. Another record, of the same period, is a contract of common law marriage.

Among the other records are contracts of sale covering both personal and real property, including lands, vineyards and houses. There also are leases, agreements regarding loans, a contract of indemnity, receipts for wages, a receipt for dowry, official orders, petitions to public officials, tax receipts, documents relating to transferring ownership of slaves and part of a registry of deeds.

What is held to be the most important record is in the form of a roll, more than seven feet long and written on both sides. It is said to be a perfect example of an ancient book or scroll of the kind mentioned in the Bible, particularly in the Book of Revelation. The scroll, dated 42 A. D., contains on one side abstracts of a number of contracts and on the other is a registry of the contracts, written in the record office of the second year of Emperor Claudius.

Between 10 and 15 years will be required to decipher all of the records and to explain them in their relation to Roman history, according to Prof. Kelsey. The university professor declared there could be no question as to the authenticity of the records.

Another collection brought to the university by the professor includes a papyrus book of 12 leaves in which are written the incantations and formulas used by a master magician. There are charms and curses for various occasions, one being a love charm. In the prayers God and the angels are invoked as well as the pagan deities of Egypt.

PAYS TO ADVERTISE

IN THE SUN

A three-line classified advertisement offering candy showcases for sale, was inserted in the classified page of The Sun yesterday and within two hours after the paper was out a woman from Centralville called at the place mentioned in the ad, which was in Pawtucketville, and purchased the cases. Later in the evening no less than six other prospective buyers called, but of course they were too late. This is a good demonstration of the value of a classified advertisement in The Sun, and also that the early bird gets the worm.

Alexander Graham Bell, Telephone Inventor, Approached Problem as Acoustician

One night, forty-seven years ago, a young man sat in a room in a cellar at Salem, Mass. Littered over a table before him lay perhaps the strangest combination of objects ever assembled for the purpose of scientific research. They consisted of a number of pieces of wood and brass, a strip of smoked glass, a straw and shades of the Salem witches—a human ear, carefully cut from a cadaver.

A few nights later witnessed a sight even stranger. Into this human ear, which in the meantime he had arranged in combination with his other materials, this young man was talking, singing, shouting at the top of his voice.

The young man was Alexander Graham Bell. He had approached the problem of the electrical transmission of the human voice, not from the standpoint of an electrician but from that of a student of acoustics. With his father, he had collaborated for years in teaching the deaf to speak by reproducing for them in visible form the sound of the human voice. He had examined the phonograph and the delicate tracings made by means of it which recorded in graphic waves the vibrations of the air due to sound. He had discussed with his friend, Dr. Chas. Blake, an eminent Boston aurist, the possibility of making an instrument more nearly approximating the construction of the human ear.

"Why not use a real ear?" was Blake's startling suggestion, followed by the offer to provide one, properly dissected. By removing a part of the inner ear and fastening one end of a straw to the stapes bone, the other resting on a strip of smoked glass, which was moved rapidly while the membrane of the ear was vibrated by the sounds spoken into it. Bell produced visible sound waves even more remarkable than those made by the phonograph.

His experiments with the human ear led directly to the conclusion that if the membrane of the eardrum, thinner than the finest tissue paper, could vibrate the bones of the inner ear, many times its weight, the vibrations of a correspondingly heavier membrane might be made to move a piece of iron placed near the pole of a magnet and thus produce the desired undulating currents which he knew were required for telephone transmission of the voice.

His first crude transmitter, with its drumhead of parchment to which he had glued a piece of clockspring, was the result. Over this was spoken the first sentence to be transmitted electrically. A dead man's ear, a crude transmitter of parchment and wood and iron; a telephone system spanning the straits to the stapes bone, the other resting on a strip of smoked glass, which was moved rapidly while the most remarkable scientific developments of the past half century.

ANGLO-JAP TREATY MAY JAM DISARMAMENT

By N.E.A. Service
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The Anglo-Japanese alliance of 1911 is expected to be one of the monkey wrenches in the machinery of the conference on limitation of armaments. China will insist that the matter be brought up.

The alliance provides for (1) Maintenance of the territorial integrity of China, (2) Consolidation and maintenance of general peace in eastern Asia and India and (3) Maintenance of the territorial rights of Japan and Great Britain in these regions. Each nation is bound to render military and other aid to the other in case eastern holdings are menaced. Thus Japan would help check an Indian rebellion or British troops would help quell a Korean uprising.

The treaty also binds the nations to give one another military aid if attacked in these eastern holdings by a foreign power, although Britain later inserted a clause eliminating nations with which she had a general treaty of arbitration. United States is considered in this class, although no treaty ever has been signed. Britain and Japan are expected to protest against a change unless granted something equally safeguarding.

SUGAR $1 A POUND IN MOSCOW

MOSCOW, Nov. 4.—Saccharine is the article most generally trafficked in here. As sugar sells on the market for the equivalent of nearly $1 a pound few persons can afford it. Saccharine is the universal sweetening. It is the pet article for smugglers.

Customs examiners are not able to check the illicit trade because of the ease with which millions and billions of rubles' worth of the sugar substitute can be concealed in luggage and on the person of smugglers. It comes across the Polish, Lithuanian, Lettish, Estonian and Finnish boundaries in great quantities. Rumanians also run it across the Bessarabian border.

On every street corner in Russian cities there are saccharine dealers soliciting buyers. Food shops and market stalls offer it everywhere. Boot-cab drivers deal in it. It is usually offered in capsules contained in small glass tubes which may be carried conveniently in a vest pocket. It is not uncommon to encounter culivated women and former army officers among the saccharine dealers. The latter fragments of a decent wardrobe and cultivated speech indicate their past, when their feet were not shod in brocade sandals.

Morrissey et al., administrators for the estate of Wilfrid Cognac, and Corinne Perreault, who was injured in the same accident, against William P. Curley et al., owners of the motor truck with which the automobile in which the party were riding, and against Arthur Pelletier, owner of the touring car have been filed in court. The suits of Commissioner John F. Salmon against Curley and Pelletier, and in connection with the same accident, are still pending and may be heard at the present session of the superior court for civil cases.

JEALOUSY OUTS LOVE

Lone Sea Retreat No Cure
for an Insanely Jealous Husband

By N.E.A. Service
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—The bleak crags of Farallon Island which jabs its nose out of the Pacific some miles off the north California coast, were selected by Mrs. Laura J. Thomas as the last stronghold of love.

Romancers of all that have found in sparsely populated spots the setting for love lyrics in which hero and heroine, even in poetic money, undisturbed by contacts with the world.

Mrs. Thomas, however, sought retirement to the loneliest place available as a means of curing her husband of jealousy. For nine years they had been married and, being fond of her husband, she had sought many ways to escape divorce, she says.

Seeks Wild Refuge
If they could but find an island, somewhere out at sea where visitors seldom found their way, she believed she could win the fight against his "unreasonable jealousy." In such a place, she reasoned, he could find absolutely nothing on which to rest his suspicion. She dreamed of a second honeymoon in isolation, and one day her dream came true. A call came for a lighthouse keeper on the Farallon, where a small boat creeps in with mail and supplies every two weeks and contacts with the outside world are few. There are about 20 persons on the island and all but a few are married. It seemed that if jealousy could be conquered anywhere in the world, this was the place.

Yet she failed. Her story, told here in securing a divorce, recites that: Even in this barren place he refused to allow her to wander about to explore the sea-hewn caves; he saw prospects of a flirtation if, she watched the provision boats land, she could not leave the island for a visit with friends in the city; he became suspicious of instances of similar nature. Finally, her nerves all but shattered, she fled.

At the radio station were three girl brides," she recalls. "How I used to envy them."

The island was an ideal place for a honeymoon—a perfect setting for lovers. There were beautiful walks and cliffs and crags and caves in the rocks and everything one might find in books. I thought that there I could win the battle. I loved it, and for a time I thought everything would be all right again. But after a few months this strange and baseless attack of jealousy would appear. It was the last straw. I had to give up my last stronghold and retreat."

SISTER MARY'S TIPS ON HOLIDAY DAINTIES

The old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner dessert was pie, mince and pumpkin both, and an Indian pudding. Now we sometimes add ice cream to the pie and do without the pudding. But an Indian pudding is delicious and more unusual than any. These desserts are as traditional as turkey itself. The whole dinner could be finished off with nuts, raisins and apples and black coffee.

Serve sweet cider with the dinner proper.

Mince Meat for Mince Pie

Two pounds beef heart, 1 cup suet, 4 cups chopped apples, 1 pound raisins, 1/2 cup shredded citron, 1 tablespoon cinnamon, 1 tablespoon allspice, 1 cup boiled cider, 2 tablespoons salt, 2 cups brown sugar, 1/2 cup vinegar, 1/2 cup water.

Boil meat until tender. Skin during boiling. Remove fat and gristle and chop. Put suet through food chopper. Seed and chop raisins. Put all ingredients in preserving kettle and cook, stirring to prevent burning for half an hour after boiling begins. Seal in sterilized jars while boiling hot. Jelly preserves or canned fruit may be used in mince meat. Chopped nuts and candied lemon and orange peel are sometimes added. A mince pie should always have an upper and a lower crust. The crust should be well baked but as the filling has been cooked the oven should be hot enough to bake the pie quickly.

Indian Pudding

Four cups milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 3 eggs, 2 1/2 cups corn meal, 1 cup seeded raisins, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 scant teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon.

Scald milk and stir in meal. Let cool to lukewarm temperature. Add butter, eggs well beaten, raisins, sugar, salt and spices. Mix thoroughly and pour into a buttered pudding dish. Bake in a slow oven for an hour and a half. Serve with hard sauce.

Hard Sauce

One cup butter, 2 cups powdered sugar, 1 egg (white), 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, nutmeg.

Beat butter to a cream, slowly beat in sugar. The sugar should be rubbed through a sieve. Beat in vanilla. Beat the egg white till stiff and dry and add to the first mixture. Mix carefully and pile in dish to serve. Sprinkle with a few gratings of nutmeg. Hard sauce is not a cake, to make if the butter is creamed before any sugar is added.

Steamed Fruit Pudding

Two-thirds cup finely chopped suet, 1 cup molasses, 1 cup milk, 2 cups sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1 orange, 1 cup sliced and chopped dates, 1 cup sliced and chopped prunes, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ginger.

Wash suet with the hands of a silver fork until creamy. The warmth of the hands will melt in the creaming.

Stir in molasses and milk. Add soda, salt, and spices to the flour and sift into the first mixture. Add juice and grated rind of the orange. Sift a little flour over the dates and raisins. Mix well and stir into the pudding mixture. Mix thoroughly and turn into a buttered mold. Steam three hours and serve with whipped cream. (Copyright, 1921, The Lowell Sun.)

REMOVING FRUIT STAINS

If the fruit stains are fresh their removal is not so difficult a problem. With the fabric held taut over a bowl, pour boiling water through the stain. If the water is poured from a height it will be more effective, for the force aids in removal.

If the stains are obstinate, as is often the case with pears and peaches, treat them with sulphur fumes. Put a tablespoon of sulphur in a sugar bowl and add a bit of alcohol. Put a funnel over this, small end up. Wet the stain with cold water, light the alcohol and hold the stain over the funnel.

It is best to do this at an open window for that eliminates all danger of inhaling the fumes. Sometimes if the stain is small, simply wetting it and holding it under a burning match serves the purpose.

If the fruit stains are on the floor wash them with cold water, then cover them with baking soda and rub gently. When dry wash off the soda and the stain will have disappeared.

$6 A MONTH FOR VIENNA PROFESSOR

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Six dollars a month is the average salary of university professors in Vienna, said Dr. Clemens Pirquet, Austrian child specialist, in an address here last night. Dr. Pirquet came to America to deliver a series of lectures at Yale university.

These professors together with many artists and writers, subsist at "professors' meals." Dr. Pirquet said, where they are served a good luncheon for 20 kronen, or about two-thirds of a cent. The mess is supported by American food drafts.

Investigate Watson Charges

Senator Brundage, republican, Connecticut, chairman of the special committee, authorizing the committee to subpoena witnesses and documents but left unsettled the question as to the exact charges of Senator Watson which were to be investigated.

Senator Watson told the senate that his charge that 21 American soldiers had been hanged in France without trial had been based on the statement of a soldier who said he had seen the gallows and had been told by the scaffold guard that this number of men had been hanged.

Soon after Senator Watson presented the basis for his charges, favorable resolutions were adopted by the committee to subpoena witnesses and documents.

The Georgia senator presented the basis for his charges during another period of heated debate. He read a telegram from this soldier whose name was not disclosed, saying that the gallows were at Glevres, France, and that the guard had told him that other men were to be hanged on it.

"That's the number 1 said," declared Senator Watson, referring to the number mentioned in the telegram. "That is the information on which I based my statements."

The Georgia senator declared that this soldier who, he said, had served four years in the army, would "face the senate and answer any questions as bravely as he faced the Germans."

Senator Watson declared he had a constitutional right to present his case in the open senate and intended to do so.

"Expel me if you like for that," he said, addressing the republican side. "You've got the vote. Go ahead and do it. Is the republican majority scared? Why not debate this here in the open and meet me face to face? Why try to entrap me and cage me and silence me in a committee room? If there's anything cheaper in this country than human life, it's a white-washing committee report. Nobody reads committee reports or has any confidence in them."

Perishing Makes Denial
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 4.—General Pershing declared here today that charges brought in the senate by Senator Watson, democrat, Georgia, were "the most outrageous and untrue accusations that could possibly be made, and absolutely without foundation."

Municipal Campaign

Continued

Everything on public rallies while others believe that the best results are to be obtained by working quietly in conjunction with their friends, and thus meeting more people probably than they could by holding rallies. The women's vote is certain to be contested for in every possible way, as the candidates realize that women are registered to such an extent and have assimilated so much information in political methods that their halloos are likely to be a deciding factor in the present campaign. Some of the aspirants are very confident of their ability to interest the ladies, while others, not so confident, perhaps, are going to make a sincere effort to do so. Various classes and nationalities are also receiving special attention with a view to securing their support.

In the council fight there is almost an equal amount of interest.

There are candidates from every walk of life and from almost every trade and profession. Many of these candidates rely on business ability as an asset in attracting the necessary votes, while others possess experience which they feel should recommend them to the voters. There are unquestionably a number who are relying on popularity and political prestige to bring them to the front in the contest. The voters will undoubtedly be able to make a choice from the great number entered, and they will be able to make a good choice if so inclined.

In the school committee lists a good array of talent is presented. A new feature is offered by the presence of several women candidates in the field. The question naturally arises whether or not these women will be able to attract the other women to their standards, or whether the new strength will come chiefly from men who think that women on the school board would tend to improve the management of the school system. This is an interesting situation and the solution will be attentively awaited.

At an early hour this afternoon not a candidate had appeared at city hall to take out papers. Several papers were filed, however, and those who took this step are as follows:

Councilor at large—Joseph Harvey, 84 Moody street; ward councilor, ward 1, Frank J. Hubin, 135 Third street; ward 5, Pierre A. Brousseau, 13 Essex street.

School committee—Laura Moore Merritt, 258 Walker street and Herbert E. Davis, 22 Oakdale street.

Late yesterday afternoon John J. Bean, 12 Gold street, candidate for councilor in ward 7 filed his papers. Edward P. Woodward, 99 Harvard street, candidate for councilor in ward 8, filed his nomination papers recently but the fact was inadvertently omitted in the newspaper lists.

Cornelius J. O'Neill, the lawyer, stated today that he will not file papers, as he never considered entering the contest. His papers having been taken out by friends who wished him to run.

BONAR LAW CONFERS WITH LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A. Bonar Law, one of the most prominent members of the unionist party and former government leader in the house of commons, conferred with Prime Minister Lloyd George last night and is taking a hand in the effort to reach a settlement of the Irish question.

The outlook for a successful continuance of the Irish negotiations was regarded somewhat improved today.

BELFAST, Nov. 4.—Sir James Craig, the premier, who is about to leave for London for consultations over the question of an Irish settlement, presided over a meeting of the Ulster cabinet held this morning. At this session, John Milne Harbour, member of a Belfast N. J. family, was installed a finance minister temporarily, owing to a breakdown in the health of the incumbent, Hugh McDowell Pollock.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty fall wedding took place Nov. 1, at the immaculate Conception rectory when Mr. Edouard G. Gormain and Miss Julia M. Coleman, two popular young people of this city were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Very Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I.

The bride was charmingly attired in blue satin with picture hat to match, while the bridesmaid, Miss Esther Dock, wore blue tulle with hat to match. The best man was Mr. James Roache. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold pendant and chain, while the groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held and supper was served at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Gormain, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts left on a honeymoon trip to New York and New Jersey and upon their return they will make their home in this city.

BEAN GUESSING CONTEST CLOSSES

Tuesday, November 1, was the end of a very interesting and unique contest conducted by Macartney's Boys department. It was called the "Boys' Bean Guessing Contest." A glass jar filled with beans has been on display in the boys' department of the store for the past month or more. At the start of the contest it was advertised in The Sun that to participate in the contest, all one had to do was to take a look at the jar full of beans, reckon, and guess how many beans were in the jar. The list of contestants was well up in the thousands at the close of the contest last Monday evening. The prize to the winner is a new $15 suit of clothes. The beans were counted by representatives of The Sun and Courier-Citizen Wednesday, and the count was 1345 beans. The nearest guess was 4550 by Nick Vergados, 56 Lewis street. Mr. Gorman Macartney was well pleased with the interest taken and the results obtained, as was Mr. Tyler, the manager of the boys' department.

BOLSHEVISM BURNING OUT IN EUROPE

BY MILTON BRONNER
LONDON, Nov. 4.—The fires of bolshevism are dying out in Europe but flaming higher in middle Asia, where they menace British rule in India. A survey of the situation shows:
Russia—Still ruled and ruled by the Bolsheviks, who, however, have had to make many concessions to capital lately, not the least of which is the assumption of the obligations of the czarist regime.
Germany—Once powerful Spartacist party reduced to insignificance; two of its leaders, Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, assassinated; and another, a Bolshevik highwayman, Max Holz, sentenced to 15 years in prison. With government strongly entrenched and red terror no longer feared.
Bavaria—Communist republic headed by Kurt Eisner, assassinated, and strong government with monarchial tendencies in saddle.
Hungary—Conservative elements in complete control after overthrowing Bela Kun's red republic, and driving him to take refuge in Russia. Although country recently rejected ex-King Carl, its trend is monarchial.
Italy—Extreme elements in socialist party, after assuming great strength, have been put down by the Fascists, an organization of more than a million men, mostly former soldiers. These pursued retaliatory tactics against the socialists after every red outrage, until a peace pact was signed.
Rumania—This country no longer fears Bolshevism. Wise agrarian laws have permitted division of huge estates into small farms which have been given to the peasantry.
Czechoslovakia—A moderate socialist republic which has never been seriously troubled by Bolshevism.
Bulgaria—A nation of peasant farmers whose premier boasts he represents the great international, meaning the small peasant farmer class, has no tolerance for Bolshevism.
Yugoslavia—Authorities have taken stern measures to repress Bolshevism, following several political murders. More than 10,000 persons have been imprisoned or banished as a result of these measures.
France—Henri Barbusse, the communist novelist, estimates there are only 150,000 communists in all France. The government has taken drastic steps to repress them. The socialist party has split up.
England—What there is of the communist party has broken up so that it is more of a joke than ever. Bigger section has repudiated only London communist paper and has withdrawn financial support from it.
Spain—Reds are menace only in industrial cities. In Barcelona, for instance, they maintain a campaign of intimidation, bomb-throwing and occasional assassination.
Middle Asia—Bolsheviks have made Caspian sea a red lake, have soviet republics in Georgia, Azerbaijan and Armenia, have Khiva, Bokhara, Turkistan and Afghanistan under their domination, and have countered British influence in Persia.
What false hair worn by American women is imported from China, France, Italy and Switzerland.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread. The water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation, and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, repeat this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids, the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effective, and lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.—Adv.

CLAIMS OF CHINA

The Chinese students, now in the United States have formed an alliance and have begun to issue a small newspaper, the "China Advocate," setting forth the claims of China and her rights as opposed to the pretensions and aggression of Japan.

In an issue of this paper which is printed in English, the Shantung question is discussed at length and it is claimed that Japan should return this province to China in accordance with her promise at the peace congress in Paris. It is alleged that Japanese propagandists have repeatedly put before the American people the relations between the two countries in a manner calculated to misrepresent the facts and to delay settlement of the Shantung controversy. China demands the unconditional return of Shantung, but Japan on various pretexts favors delay and wants conditions which China is unwilling to accept.

The appearance of this Chinese paper is the first indication we have seen of any effort on the part of the Chinese people in the United States, to offset the vast output of Japanese propaganda dealing with China and other questions in the Orient.

There is little doubt that Japan is seeking an opportunity to exploit China for her own benefit, but China will support the United States in maintaining the "open door" and other policies that will restrict the freedom of Japan in encroaching upon China or exploiting any part of her territory.

It has not hitherto been noticed that the peninsula of Shantung with that of Korea closes in a harbor at the head of the Yellow Sea, in which the Japanese navy would find a haven of security as safe as was the Kiel canal during the world war.

At the head of this harbor is Port Arthur, which Japan captured in her war with Russia some years ago. Whether Japan had in mind the formation of a safe retreat for her navy by holding Shantung is not certain, of course; but it is a fact that she is viewing things generally from the military standpoint.

THE NO. DAKOTA EXPERIMENT

The experiment in state ownership of public utilities and a generally paternalistic government such as had been tried in North Dakota, has proved an utter failure. The farmers of that state some time ago came to the conclusion that they had been ill-treated by the railroads, the banks, the grain elevators and other agencies of distribution. While they were in that state of mind, an agitator named Arthur G. Townley came along from Minnesota and started a campaign for a change which would put the state in charge of the banks and give the Non-Partisan league control of the government. This scheme was adopted and carried out in an election. State banks were owned for the benefit of the farmers and the Non-Partisan league put the republican organization out of business and assumed control.

Recently the people became so much disappointed with the conduct of affairs under the new order of things, that they decided to have a recall election and as a result the governor, attorney general and commissioner of agriculture and labor were ousted from office and others chosen in their place. The Non-Partisan league, therefore, loses its grip upon the business of the state and the new officials take hold of what is a very confused situation and one which time alone can clear up to the satisfaction of the people. The socialistic experiment proved as great a failure in North Dakota as in Russia; but there was no disorder of any kind. The people relied upon the constitutional methods provided for dealing with such emergencies. It is expected that they will gradually revert back to the former order of things, having learned that banks directed by the state cannot extend credit to farmers without proper security and at the same time maintain their solvency.

RAILROAD TREACHERY

That our Merchant Marine has been practically put out of business by foreign competition, "baited and hooked by Americans" is the charge made by Senator Russell of Louisiana in a speech in the senate. In support of this charge, he cited the report of contracts filed with the Interstate Commerce commission by about twenty great railroad systems, in which the companies agree to use their best efforts to secure freight for foreign shipping companies to the exclusion of others. The railroads themselves in their publicity campaigns, have stated repeatedly that they had reduced rates on various articles imported for export on various articles imported for export. Senator Russell's charge is thus confirmed indirectly by the independent statements of the roads themselves.

Such a policy on the part of the railroads indicates that although reducing rates has been the policy of the government, and although appealing for aid from the carriers, the carriers are actually co-operating with foreign interests against the government and the people of this country.

Such developments are not calculated to increase the people's faith in the honesty of the railroads. There will it tend to show that the various systems are ready to oppose the government and the interests of the people in the effort to pay dividends on their watered stock.

THE LETTER CARRIER

"Have you any new attachments for phonographs?" "Heavens, no! We've been looking in here so long and trying out records for people who didn't want to buy, that there isn't one of us here who feels the slightest attachment for a phonograph any more!"—Farm Life.

Of Sacred Origin

A colored woman in Oak Cliff Exchange, Dallas, has a daughter named Central. "Where in the world did you get that name for the child?" asked her employer, who had recently come from the north. "Well, Miss Wilson, that child's name's religious," replied the colored woman. "Ah, but it's from the lovely hymn called 'Hallelu, Central, Give Me Heaven!'—The Transmitter.

Beards and Men

The early stages of mankind were bearded, observes Dr. Barton, correspondent for the N.E.A., of which The Sun has exclusive rights here.

It would be interesting to continue to examine the portraits of different generations and nationalities and to discover to what extent portraits could be assigned to their proper places in history by the record of the work of the razor. In Greece shaving came in with Alexander. He was a young king, and it became popular to appear young. Greek sculpture commonly represented bearded men, for the reason that the sculptors largely chose athletes for their models, and these were young men. But when they chose ideal types, as Homer or Sophocles, they made them bearded—Homer with a long and flowing beard, Sophocles with a beard of moderate length. In Arabia a man is honored in proportion to the length of his beard. "Tarry at Jericho till your beard is grown" is the word to the hostesses who had been sent back with the suit of clipped beards. The beard of Aaron has won renown for thousands of years. It came down to the skirts of his garments. George Washington and the men of his day were close shaven. The generals of the Civil War on both sides were mostly full-bearded men, and so were the presidents who followed the war. Grant, Hayes, Garfield. Then the mustache became our most popular adornment. And now we have fallen upon the day of the safety razor and the beard is in little regard. But it will come to its own. Styles change. The day will arrive when men will be as proud of a good beard as they now are of a smoothly shaven face, and they will rejoice in their deliverance from the tyranny of the razor. The day may come when even side whiskers are popular again. But let us hope that that will be after most of us are dead. How would Michaelangelo have gotten on with his statue of Moses if he had been compelled to represent him as beardless? There is something to be said for the beard.

The Helpful Spenders

In a season of depression, when employment, lowered wages, and their profound thought engage the well-to-do and wealthy. And they straightaway all devise—without any pressing reason—How they can economize.

Women passing rich their duty—As they see it—do not shrink. But discharge their hired servants. And proceed to do their work. That they do not need the money. Told in help is simple fact. Which in no way dims the lustre of the grand dish-washing act.

Still another takes to pinching. In an awful fit of blues. And cuts down expense by dropping. All her missionary duties. While her husband puts the bootblack out of business with a wave of refusal and a muttered "Well, by George! I've got to save."

But the people who can manage. Just from hand to mouth to live. Never to financial panic. Much consideration give. They've been cold and they've been hungry. And from want are seldom far. Then why worry when they can be much worse off than what they are.

So they go to every extreme. In the good old summer time. And upon the side shows squander. Every solitary dime. In the Fall they're attending. All the fairs and county fairs. With the fakes all they're down to. The last cent that they can get.

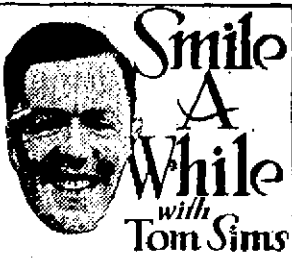

With no thought for the tomorrow. In their happy, heedless way. The imprudent are the ones who keep things going on today. And tomorrow they're very far. Heard a penny over night. Is the reason that there's ever. A few currency in sight.

MAN ABOUT TOWN
"Automobile Row" has the autumn fever in earnest. Many of the local stores where 1921 cars and accessories are displayed, have decorated their windows with autumn leaves and twigs and the effort is very handsome. Customers have stopped before leaving the store to admire the exhibition of autumnal beauty and praise the auto salesman for their handwork. And this reminds me of another display in a store on "Automobile Row." Several unique exhibits attract attention. One of them is a frame containing photographs of "America's First Automobile," also "The First Car Ever Built in Lowell." The last picture is something I have not seen before anywhere. It is said that every piece of this car's mechanism was manufactured right here in Lowell and the car assembled here also. In another section of the windows is a large stalk of southern cotton, showing the plant pulled from the ground, roots and all, with bolls of cotton hanging from the branches. There is also an old rifle in the window that bears the marks of Revolutionary war days.

The report is that Haverhill has turned into the wildest football town in the country. That this is true is evidenced by the fact that last Saturday at Haverhill stadium more than 12,000 people paid 50 cents each to see the game between the Haverhill and Manchester high school teams. This is the largest crowd that has witnessed a high school game in these parts in many years. The unfortunate thing about Haverhill football is that entirely too much gambling on the games goes on. Every Haverhill fan bets on either the score of the game or on who will make the touchdowns. This does not add to the excitement of the game and Haverhill should try to remedy this evil.

Hundreds of Lynn people have been cured of severe lung coughs by this wonderful remedy, many of whom have either written or told us of their experience. Following is the written testimony of one of the hundreds gratefully given:

Mr. H. J. Allen:
Dear Sir—Several months ago I contracted a very heavy cold on my lungs. The lungs were sore and congested and I was in a serious condition. I had heard so much about your Lung Healer and the many cures it had wrought in similar cases, I thought I would try it. The first dose relieved me as did each succeeding dose, and when the bottle was used up I was practically well again. I am satisfied that the Lung Healer saved me from having pneumonia.

Horse Stages Industrial Comeback

—Dobbin Not on His Last Legs

"DOC" F. A. HOLBROOK, VETERAN HORSE WRANGLER OF SAN FRANCISCO, INSPECTING A TEAM OF BELGIAN MARES ON WHICH HE BANKS IN THE ECONOMIC TUG OF WAR WITH THE MOTOR TRUCK ON SHORT HAULS

By N.E.A. Service
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—The horse who helped tug man up out of barbarism—ready for the discard? Neigh, neigh.
On the contrary, Dobbin is starting a strong comeback as a competitor of the city motor truck.
You have it on the authority of Smith & McNab, the largest drayage firm west of Chicago, who are reorganizing their business on the conviction that for short hauls at least horse-power is better and cheaper than piston-power.
At the same time a number of western breeders are reviving the industry, and already the whinney of sturdy colts is dinging a challenge at the tooling gas buggy. The same tendency is seen reflected in renewed interest in horse shows and enlarged stock exhibits at recent county fairs.

"Doc" F. A. Holbrook, superintendent of McNab & Smith, and one of the wisest horsemen in the west, combines sentimental satisfaction with cold calculation when he says: "Economic reasons have guided our return to the horse for city draying. A fine team and wagon represents an outlay of some $1600 today, while a truck costs in the neighborhood of $7500. The working life of the two is about the same in our business, while the upkeep of a team is less than a truck with its needs for a repair crew of experts. Horses on the short hauls especially, make just as good time and carry as much in a day as trucks, we have found."

Old teamsters are jubilant at the prospect. They look for lines and sweating horse flesh.
"You can't get any satisfaction causing a carburetor," affirms Bill Hedger, who won the six-horse-team driving contest at the Panama-Pacific exposition and who has been with McNab & Smith for 36 years. "Nor you can't get acquainted with 'em like you can a horse. Even a stubborn brute is better than a balky motor."

SALES TAX REJECTED BY SENATE, 43 TO 25

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The sales tax was rejected last night by the senate.

The vote, 43 against to 25 for, was on a proposal by Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, for a 1 per cent. levy, with exemptions provided in the case of sales by farmers of the products of their farms, sales by public utilities and those by the United States or any foreign government and navy and hospitals.

The democrats voted solidly against the sales tax and were joined by 17 republicans.

The roll-call showed:
For the amendment—Republicans: Bursum, Cameron, Edge, Ernst, Fernald, France, Frelinghuysen, Gooding, Jones of Washington, Keyes, McKinley, Moses, New, Newberry, Nicholson

Odell, Phipps, Polindexter, Shortridge, Smoot, Spencer, Wadsworth, Warren, Watson of Indiana and Weller.—25.
Against the amendment—Republicans: Borah, Capper, Curtis, Kenyon, La Follette, Leffert, McCone, McCumber, McNary, Nelson, Norbeck, Penrose, Standfield, Sterling, Sulzer, Townsend and Willis.—17.
Democrats: Ashurst, Broussard, Caraway, Fletcher, Gerry, Glass, Harris, Healin, Jones of New Mexico, Kendrick, King, McKellar, Myers, Overman, Pittman, Pomeroy, Reed, Shepard, Simmons, Stanley, Swanson, Tamm, Walsh of Massachusetts, Walsh of Montana, Watson of Georgia, and Williams.—26—43.
This vote was regarded generally as decisive of the whole question of a sales tax at this time, but immediately after it had been announced Senator Smoot offered another amendment, embodying a business sales tax of one-half of 1 per cent. on gross sales in excess of $5000 a year. This went over until today and Senator Smoot said he did not think consideration of it would consume much time.

In the comparatively brief debate on the defeated manufacturers sales tax plan, some republican leaders indicated that a sales tax might have to be provided for in connection with the soldiers' bonus bill, which they predicted would be passed at the next session of congress.
Before taking up the sales tax the senate perfected the committee bill with the adoption of some additional amendments offered by individual senators. The program for today was somewhat indefinite, as democratic leaders had not finally made known their plans with regard to the soldier bonus amendments. It was expected, however, that these would be reached and Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, in charge of the tax bill, said he thought it might safely be said that a final vote on the measure could be reached by Saturday night.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION
The North Billerica Parent-Teacher association was organized last evening at a meeting in the Talbot school attended by about 40 mothers and fathers and teachers of the town. The movement had been put about some time ago by Mrs. George Stowers, of the school committee. The following list of officers was chosen: Miss Rita K. Hall, president; Mrs. Wallace W. Brown, vice president; Miss Alice Higgins, secretary; Fred Wain, treasurer; Mrs. Axel Blakely, Mrs. Edward Collins and Rev. Chester J. Armstrong, executive committee. Considerable interest in the organization and its purposes was shown and it is expected the association will meet with success and enroll many more members.

PRESENTED PURSE OF GOLD
There was a pleasing event in connection with the regular meeting of the Women's Relief Corps, 33, which was held last evening, when Mrs. Mary E. Smith, a popular member of the organization, was presented a purse of gold on the occasion of her 50th birthday anniversary. In the course of the evening refreshments were served and entertainment numbers were given.

How To Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

Your nerve power depends on plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—makes. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not inflame the stomach nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalize worn-out, exhausted nerves and gives you new strength and energy. Over 1,000,000 people annually are using it. Beware of substitutes. Always insist upon having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists in tablets only—never in liquid form.—Adv.

No, Indeed!

I am not going to be silly enough to advise girls on how to break into the movies, but I do want my friends to know that the Boston Daily Advertiser is about to give away $5,000 to those who know the movie players.

An Identity Contest.

The Boston Advertiser—daily and Sunday—will print the pictures of one hundred and twenty players and ask you to identify them.

Two pictures each day for sixty days.

No masks! The photographs, exactly as they come from the studio.

Can there be any well known movie player whom you would not know at sight? That's what I thought.

Get today's Boston Daily Advertiser for the details. My picture will be in the Contest, so there's one you've got to start with!

Lovingly,

YOUR FRIEND

ANNUAL WEEK DAY FAIR

Women's Auxiliary Stages
Pretty Event at the
Y. M. C. A. Building

The Lowell Y.M.C.A. now looks its prettiest. Decorated by the women's auxiliary which is now conducting its annual three days' fair the Y has been transformed into a miniature Mardi Gras centre. Flags, streamers, plants, flowers and bunting are everywhere. The foyer to the gymnasium and the communion itself are ablaze with decorations and creations, the result of careful and deft planning by the women. The fair opened yesterday and over 400 people availed themselves of the opportunity of partaking of the excellent turkey supper served in the evening. And the musical entertainment which followed had a pleasing effect on the assemblage then well repaid for its visit.

Entering the building one is confronted with booths and demonstrations of local manufacturers and business men for the fair is known as a sale, supper and manufacturers and merchants display. Nearly every available inch of floor space is taken up with displays. Two monster exhibits of electrical appliances are shown by George H. Hill and the New England Electric company. Everything in the line of electrical contrivances is carefully shown and as carefully explained by those in charge. William Rounds, photographer, has a fine exhibit of his wares while D. L. Page and F. M. Hill have a coffee exhibit and demonstration. An aluminum display is in charge of Mrs. Emma Perkins.

On entering the gym one sees seven booths, each named after a day in the week. At the left is the Monday and Tuesday booth which contains soap, aprons and in fact everything needed for washing and ironing. A large electric washing machine stands guard beside this booth and acts as a magnet for the curious.

The Wednesday booth contains articles used in mending and a display of children's wear and articles takes up a prominent section.

The Thursday booth is devoted to fancy work and Christmas articles. On this booth are suggestions for presents for the coming Yuletide.

The Friday booth features a vacuum cleaner and other electric appliances used to tidy the house. On Saturday's booth are cooking utensils and canned goods.

The Sunday booth is merged with the holiday table on which candy and other things suggestive of rest day are displayed.

All articles for sale have been contributed by leading merchants and manufacturers or made and contributed by the women of the society. The supper tonight will be served between 6:30 and 8, while tomorrow night it will be served between 5 and 7:30.

Last night's entertainment consisted of music by the Saxo-Loewell orchestra and readings by Miss Frances Johnson.

The general committee in charge of the fair is as follows: Mrs. J. C. W. and Mrs. R. W. Wood, chairmen, and Mrs. Thomas Adams and Mrs. George Stewart.

ALLIANCE IMPOSSIBLE

Ambassador Says Hope That
U. S. May Be Merged With Britain and France Futile

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 4.—(By Associated Press)—George Harvey, the United States Ambassador, told an audience at the Liverpool chamber of commerce last night that it was futile to hope that America, as Lord Derby recently had been suggesting, may some day be merged in a definite alliance with Great Britain and France.

This statement was made as a digression from an address on economic and the international industrial situation, in which the American ambassador attacked communism and socialism.

Mr. Harvey recalled Lord Derby's recent statement that the success of the Washington conference would mean peace and that its failure would mean war in the immediate future. The speaker also recalled Lord Derby's suggestion to an American audience last Tuesday evening that an Anglo-French alliance would be desirable, intimating the "strong hope" that America might eventually join this combination.

The ambassador said he could conceive of no more effective service than to set forth frankly any certainty which may bear upon the immediate future, and that he felt "impelled to say frankly that the hope voiced by Lord Derby must be regarded as futile."

He said that the traditional policy of entering no permanent alliance was reiterated with great positiveness in our latest national campaign by our present president, and was confirmed by a majority of the people so great as to be beyond the pale of comparison.

"May it not be, then," he continued, "the part of wisdom to avoid discussion or even suggestion of a proposal which, however praiseworthy it may be, could hardly serve any purpose other than to feed enemies and distress friends of both Great Britain and France who live in America."

In dealing with the subject of world economics, he said that three years after the armistice the world is only approaching what may prove to be the first definite and enduring settlement foreshadowing prosperity. He declared a period of what normally would be termed over-production should now follow the long period of under-production. Instead, however, he declared both England and America had been persistent in under-production.

Requiem Sung for Unknown
Italian in Boston Church
Today

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Consults of the allied nations, Gov. Cox and Lieut. Gov. Fuller, representatives of the army and navy and distinguished Italian citizens were present in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross today when a solemn high mass of requiem was sung for the unknown Italian soldier whose funeral took place in Rome. Cardinal O'Connell presided at the ceremony and spoke his word of tribute to the memory of the unknown.

Italian residents who served in the world war formed a procession with various societies in North square, the center of the Italian colony, and marched to the cathedral. They carried American and Italian flags which they banded just inside the chancel rail. Immediately in front of the sanctuary entrance had been raised a catafalque. Around this stood lighted candles and various societies placed large wreaths at its head and foot.

ists Told to Police

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—A story as grim as those of the most real of Russian realists was told today in police headquarters.

It concerned Frank Passyno, a ship's carpenter, found shot to death in a Russian cemetery at South River, N. J., last Sunday. It came from the lips of Alexander Savin, his chum, who was arrested as a fugitive from justice and held on a charge of homicide.

This is the confession Savin is alleged to have made to the police:

That, out of work for four months, Passyno had become desperate and tried in vain to starve himself to death; that at last he had asked Savin to shoot him; that Savin had refused but had been met with a threat of death himself; that last Sunday, the two had gone from their room in this city to the Russian cemetery across the Hudson; that the two had embraced and kissed; that Savin had fired three shots without killing his chum; that Passyno then had asked him to pause until he had given him his last five dollars to his executioner as a reward; that the fourth shot had done the work.

Savin, according to the police, added that he had dragged the body to a place where passersby might more easily find it.

A perplexing development was discovery of $400 deposited in a bank to Passyno's credit.

ALLIED BONDS JOIN IN UPWARD MOVEMENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Buying of bonds, especially Liberty and Victory issues, continued to feature the trading on the stock exchange today, the demand for these securities being relatively far in excess of dealings in stocks.

Liberty 2½, 3d and 4th 4½ attained highest quotations of the year with Victory 3½s and Victory 4½s duplicating yesterday's high record of par.

The demand for these bonds, which seemed to have been frustrated by the recent decline in federal reserve rediscount rates, comes from all quarters, according to bond dealers, large corporate interests being among the principal purchasers.

SHOE SHOP TO CLOSE

LYNN, Nov. 4.—The Harney, Tracy, Crehan Co. shoe manufacturers, announced today that their factory would be shut down shortly. The cutting and stitching departments would close tonight and other departments as soon as work in hand was completed, it was said. The company employs about 200 persons. Members of the firm said the decision to close was due to lack of orders and other business conditions.

SEC. HOOVER EXPECTED
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover was expected here today for a conference with a committee of steamship owners at which plans for reorganization of the marine bureaus of the department of commerce will be discussed.

Mail Pouch With $26,000 Missing

DEDHAM, Nov. 4.—The disappearance of a mail pouch containing $26,000 in negotiable checks, sent by the Dedham National bank to the Boston clearing house, became known today. The pouch was one of two forwarded by train on Oct. 15. Its disappearance was noticed first at the Boston Terminal. Postoffice inspectors are said to have found no trace of it to date. Bank officials said they thought it more likely that it has gone astray than that it had been stolen. The largest of the checks in the pouch was for $17,000. Payment on this and on such other checks as could be recalled, has been stopped and a duplicate for the $17,000 check issued by the bank.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Harold D. Wilson, prohibition field agent for Massachusetts today announced the discharge of three enforcement agents as a step in the reorganization of his department. He said three other agents would be relieved of their duties before night.

Mr. Wilson, in a statement yesterday, charged that there had been many leaks regarding proposed raids.

They must convince themselves first, as information of this sort is not always graciously received and fact is well known, that they should recognize the signs or symptoms, advise examination by a surgeon, and prevent treatment until the examination has taken place.

investigations is believed by many, but the investigations of many specialists still indicate that such is not the case. The commonest cause of cancer may have been the so-called "influences," Mendel's law of heredity in animals cannot be applied to humans. Dr. Janeway of Johns Hopkins, a distinguished authority, states in his observation and research that cancer tissue is always a new one, never fixed by a doctor or anyone else, acquired at an operation. Many fatalities have resulted through this groundless fear of contagion. Foulion or fixation is not called for. Ordinarily, cancer is not transmitted, but it is all that is necessary.

Boston Auction Shops Raided

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—The auction shops where jewelry, rugs and bric-a-brac have been selling for weeks at prices which the auctioneers said were "dirt cheap" were silent and deserted today. Police inspectors raided seven of the shops, arresting the auctioneer in each place on charges of having made false statements and of having practiced fraud and deceit in the sale of goods. In one instance, according to a complaint, a ring alleged to have been sold as a genuine diamond, with a band of solid gold, was found to be worth $6 a dozen. The auctioneers were held in bonds for hearings tomorrow.

Sir Robert Borden Points Out Responsibility of U. S. and British Empire

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Sir Robert Borden, who leads the Canadian delegates to the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments, pointed out in an address here today the responsibility of the United States and the British empire in preventing another world war.

Speaking at the Lawyers' club, he said:

"Upon the two great commonwealths of the English-speaking world, the American republic and the British empire, there rests today as solemn a responsibility as was ever imposed upon any nation."

"It was entirely for you to determine whether you should enter into the covenant of the League of Nations. No one realizes more fully than myself that there are serious defects in its form, but I am convinced that its purpose, the enhancement of public right and the maintenance of the world's peace, commands the intense sympathy and full support of the American people. And, whatever may be the defects of the government, it was surely a great thing that more than 30 nations represented at the Paris conference consecrated their future endeavor to that supreme purpose."

"Another world war—and there is grave reason to fear that in any great war all nations must eventually become involved—will be infinitely more terrible in its character and immeasurably more disastrous in its results. These two English-speaking commonwealths together exercise an unequalled power and influence in world affairs; from that power and influence equal responsibility cannot be divorced; this responsibility may be fulfilled, not by any formal alliance but through complete understanding and comprehension, through mutual good will and common endeavor, through a firm and united purpose to secure for tortured humanity, perpetual respite from the blighting curse of war with its unspeakable destruction, horror and suffering out of which the nations have hardly yet emerged."

Cotton Men Approve Efforts to Procure for U. S. Ships Share of Egyptian Imports

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—Approval of shipping board efforts to procure for American ships "the carrying of a proper share of our imports of Egyptian cotton," was voiced in a resolution adopted today by the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

"In view of the considerable purchases in this country of Egyptian cotton and other imports, the possession by the United States of a merchant shipping of its own, rightly proportioned to the strength of other American industries, is essential to security of our commerce and vital to the national defense," the resolution added.

American diplomatic representatives abroad were called upon in other resolutions to be watchful "that there be not improper discrimination against the products of the United States by any country; that American merchandise and property abroad be given as good and favorable protection as that accorded the merchandise and property of any other nation, and that trade marks be recognized and fairly protected by all foreign governments and countries."

The association also announced in resolutions that in view of the present depressed condition of American industry, abnormally low cost of production abroad and the foreign exchange situation, it entertained the "solemn conviction it is imperative that there be no further relaxation of an adequate protective tariff bill."

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 3.—Gen. John J. Pershing might have been an admiral had not the lure of land operations been more compelling than aquatic warfare, for in his youth he received an appointment to Annapolis. When Governor Arthur B. Hyde started to introduce his father, Ira B. Hyde, to Gen. Pershing yesterday, the general smilingly interrupted him by saying:

Governor, you don't need to introduce your father to me, because I have known him a good many years. He once appointed me to Annapolis. Gen. Pershing then spoke of the time when his father took him from their home in LaCade, Mo., over to Princeton, to meet the elder Hyde, who was then a member of congress from that district and how Mr. Hyde had appointed him to the naval academy.

On returning home, however, young Pershing said his father reconsidered the matter and the appointment was declined because the future general of the American Expeditionary Forces in France thought he would prefer the army. Later he was appointed to West Point by Congressman Burrows.

LOWELL IN THE OLDEN DAYS

Man Who Knows Lowell
Like a Book Gives Sun
Reporter Interesting Story

Lowell Man at 80 is Still the Active Head of a Big Business

Life of Artemus B. Woodworth Interwoven With Advance of Lowell's Growth

Stories of the Lowell of by-gone days when the present "City of Spindles" was the terminal of great logging drives down the mighty Merrimack, when the lumber industry was in its prime and dealers in that valuable building commodity never had to adjust prices to suit the demands of eager buyers but simply guaranteed deliveries, were unfolded to a Sun man in deeply interesting fashion yesterday.

ARTEMUS B. WOODWORTH.

Afternoon in the quiet little office of a woodworking establishment on a back street by a distinguished representative of Lowell's mercantile world.

Artemus B. Woodworth, though 80 years old is still the active head of a flourishing business and opens his red-top desk promptly every morning soon after sunrise, just as he has done regularly for the past 60 years. Today he is in excellent health, very active, and continues to maintain his business relations with customers far and near, in so far as his time will allow.

He is the continuing president of the Lowell co-operative bank, which he helped to organize, and has been president of the institution since the day the charter was received. He has been a director of the Old Lowell National bank for 45 years, and remains an active participant in all affairs relating to this institution. He is a member of the Highland Congregational church, too, and no member of that society takes more interest in its well-being and in the activities of the Christian citizenship of that church as well as the general religious life of the city.

Watched City Grow

Mr. Woodworth's history is notably that of a man who has grown up with the city of Lowell. He has been an important link in the great industrial chain as well as that having to do with the civic and social side. He has watched the city grow from a community of 22,000 souls to one of three times that number. And in every passing year the name of Woodworth has been identified—interwoven would be a better word, perhaps—with the advance of Lowell's growth from a community of small being to one whose name is today known the world over.

Mr. Woodworth was born in the little village of Haverhill, N. H. He was one of the company of brave pioneers who accompanied Elisha Wheelock to New Hampshire and erected the log buildings that were to prove the foundation for this great New Hampshire institution. Wheelock taught the Indians that lived in that vicinity. And that is why today the old Haverhill college charter still reads "founded to assist and teach the Indians."

Came Here in 1861

Artemus Woodworth first came to Lowell early in 1861. It was in April, he remembers well, when the old Sixth Massachusetts regiment, marching away amid the cheers and tears of an excited people, it was a disagreeable, rainy day. Mr. Woodworth collected, and he can still see in memory the boys in blue as they marched bravely from old Huntington hall to board the train that was to take them southward, through Baltimore and on to a glimmering history.

The old-established industry now owned by the Woodworths, goes under the former name of A. L. Brooks, who

PERMITS TO MAKE BEER ISSUED

Prohibition Commissioner
Approves Applications of Schlitz and Piel Brothers

Brewers to Manufacture and Sell Beer for Medical Purposes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes approved today the first two applications from brewers for permits to manufacture and sell beer for medical purposes.

The applications were from Joseph Schlitz of Milwaukee and Piel Brothers of New York and officials said the permits for them to engage in the medical beer business would be forwarded at once.

Other applications from brewers for permits to manufacture and sell beer for medical purposes, and where there was no evidence of prior violation of the law or irregularity in the preparations for dealing in medical beer the necessary permits would be forthcoming.

Before the distribution of medical beer to the sick can begin, Commissioner Haynes explained, both physicians and druggists must obtain new permits to enable them to prescribe and sell it. Applications for these permits he added, are made to state directors and issued by them.

In connection with prescriptions for beer, Mr. Haynes added, a point yet to be decided is whether a physician is limited to the 100 prescriptions every three months as is now the rule, or whether under the new regulations he is entitled to more prescriptions for the same business back in 1815.

Many of the buildings located in the vicinity of Fitch and Cotton streets years ago, remain to this day. Mr. Woodworth worked first as a book-keeper for J. Brooks. Land was purchased adjoining the plant from the Locks and Lumber company, a large planing mill and box shop erected, and arranged for the continuous supplies of lumber from the northern woods. The plant today remains about the same in size as it was originally.

Mr. Woodworth was admitted to partnership with Mr. Brooks in 1872, and then came the changes of later years that resulted in Mr. Woodworth, the former employee, becoming sole owner. Some of the buildings of the former owner were sold to other establishments today, but Mr. Woodworth controls the property as of yore.

The story of the great log drives that came down from the north to Lowell, was retold yesterday by Mr. Woodworth, with remarkable clearness and detail. The Lowell mill obtained many millions of feet of lumber each spring through the river drives from Grafton county, New Hampshire. The Merrimack was then "wide open" and the waters clear for the mighty "floats." Twelve million feet of lumber every spring was the rule, and the lumbermen came in by the thousands as the "northern canal." Pine, spruce and hemlock were in great demand, and the supply always adequate.

Reminiscences of the business conducted by Mr. Brooks were related by Mr. Woodworth. Some of the early years of the business came in early in the morning and open his mail leisurely. He then "waited for customers." Price schedules were made out for each day's business. Customers would then come along and "talk business."

"Prices were not discussed at all," said Mr. Woodworth. "Customers wanted to know when they could get the lumber, that was all. And the lumber was always delivered on time in those days."

Voted For Lincoln

Mr. Woodworth cast his first vote for Abraham Lincoln, and has voted for every republican candidate for president since that time. He is today a firm friend of the present incumbent in power. He said:

"President Harding is meeting all reasonable expectations. I am proud of him for initiating that conference of representative men of the world's nations who will assemble in Washington on Armistice day. I believe this meeting will go down in history as one of the most noble attempts to maintain the world's peace ever known. I believe it will work out all right and that the conference will not be a failure."

Mr. Woodworth spoke in reminiscence of his long business association with the firms of Andrews, Sanders & Co., O'Brien & Co., and many others. Mr. Woodworth's mother listed well known names among her ancestors. There were Daniel Hovey of Ipswich and Moses Cleveland of Woburn.

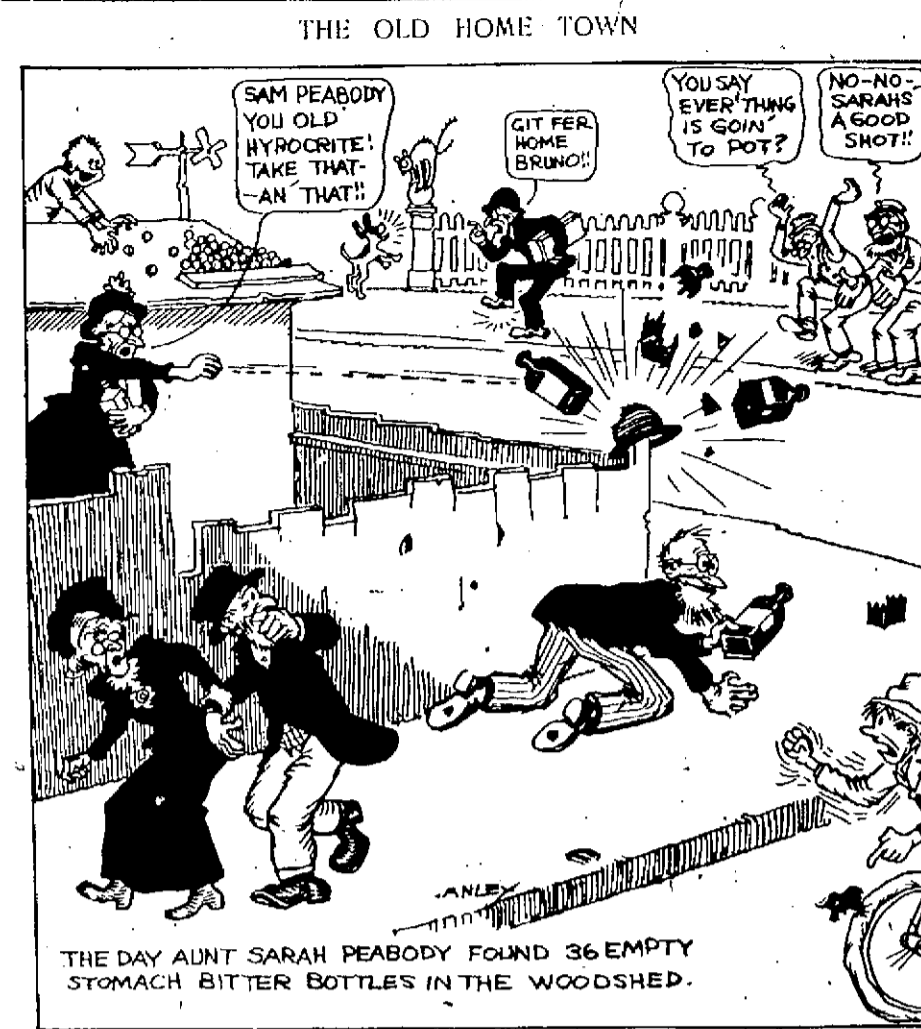

"My mother was of the eighth generation removed from Moses Cleveland, and so was the late President Grover Cleveland," said Mr. Woodworth. Moses settled in Woburn in 1625.

Mr. Woodworth has been quite a reader, and "I have believed in 'Reading America First.' On one of his trips west, the train was stopped to give passengers an opportunity to chat with William Jennings Bryan. He told a good story of Bryan's having been asked by a woman for a copy of the Bible. Many of the passengers were from the West, and Mr. Bryan told them not to worry.

"When that happens to me," he said, "I just wait a minute until someone else has come along and pick it up."

The Woodworths have been intimately connected with notable Lowell institutions and activities all their lives. Mr. Woodworth was a member of the Lowell common council for two years, early in the '80s. He was also a member of the commission that erected the Jackson street bridge. During the years he was a city official, George Lunell and John J. Donovan were in the majority chair.

Great fires have caused havoc in the Fletcher street neighborhood, and the A. L. Brooks building always suffered heavily. This is the old "Boy & dis-

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE REVIVAL OF BUSINESS CITY HALL DEPARTMENTS

Good Things in Store for Poor
Children on Thanksgiving Day

The Salvation Army drive for a real Thanksgiving dinner for the poor children of Lowell starts tomorrow. Every year the Salvation Army has this kindly work and gives many hundreds of children a dinner that the children would never get but for the army. Tomorrow the Salvation Army collectors will patrol the downtown section of the city and will continue to until Thanksgiving day. It is hoped that the people will be as generous this year as in other years because, owing to the labor conditions, there will be a greater number of poor than ever before.

Conditions Are Showing
Steady Improvement in all the Principal Industries

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Several municipalities in Massachusetts have made available funds in comparatively large amounts for the purpose of relieving the unemployment situation, the state department of labor and industries reported to Governor Cox today.

The report relates from indicating the cities and towns which have taken this step, but it states that the money thus made is available to be used for street construction.

"The prospect of a general railroad strike," the department reports, "caused some curtailment of business, but the uncertainty has been removed there is reason to believe that the recovery from industrial depression will be accelerated."

"The expectation of further reductions in freight rates is leading to greater confidence in a revival of business."

"In all the principal industries of the state, except the boot and shoe industry, conditions appear to be steadily improving and prospects are brighter, but factory working hours are not yet generally on full time basis. The paper mills continue busy."

high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. John M. Manion. The choir sang the Gregorian chant, the solos being sung by Miss Mary Hyman and Miss Dorothy M. Gerkens. Organ by Rev. John M. Manion. The bearers were Messrs. Dennis O'Donnell, Matthew Donohue, John Glosop, John Burns, Edward Mearns and Spencer Egan. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayer was read by Rev. P. Manion. The funeral was in charge of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell and Sons.

FUNERAL NOTICES

DILLON—Died Nov. 3d, at St. John's hospital, Edward J. Dillon, aged 50 years. Funeral will take place Monday morning at 9 o'clock from the home of his sister, Mrs. Edward J. Dillon, 259 Concord street. A large high mass will be sung at 9 o'clock. The burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery, in charge of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell and Sons.

FIVE BOYS SENT TO LYMAN SCHOOL

Five boys, four charged with delinquency and the other with larceny, were committed to the Lyman school by Judge Bright in the juvenile session of the district court this morning. One appeared and was held under bail of $200. It was said that two of the boys were alleged to have entered Rostler's grocery store on Branch street Halloween night and looted the cash register of a small amount of money in change.

There were fourteen juveniles before the court afterward. The session was one of the longest seen here for a long time, court officers asserted. Five other youths, a 1 ranging in ages between 12 and 15, were put on probation for a year after receiving severe reprimands from the court. Another boy, who was charged with receiving stolen property, was fined $10 and placed in care of the probation officer until January 15, that time being allowed him to pay the assessment.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

A very pleasant Halloween party took place on Monday evening of this week at the home of Mr. Fred Burnette, 41 Hudson street. The dining room was very prettily decorated with colored streamers and pumpkins. Halloween games were played and a splendid musical program was carried out. A large number of friends were present and refreshments were served, and at a late hour the party broke up, all thanking Mr. Burnette for his generous hospitality.

in Various Departments in the Municipal Building

The various departments at city hall have been having a period of exceptional quiet during the past few days, due in some measure, no doubt, to the fact that a new government will come into being in the course of a few weeks, and it is not considered desirable to attempt anything on a large scale in the short time that remains.

In the water department, the only thing that tends to liven things is the constant demand for employment by scores of men who visit the commission in search of a week's work. Needless to state it is impossible for the commission to satisfy their demands, as he has as much help now as he can use.

Outside of the small paving job on upper Broadway, the street department is confining itself to the full schedule of laying cinder sidewalks and doing minor repair work. Of course, the matter of the Lundberg street bridge, which, according to the experts, must be replaced with a new structure, is receiving due attention, but work on the project cannot be started until the plans are completed and other details attended to, including the necessary appropriation.

EX-EMPEROR IS DETHRONED

Hapsburg Dynasty Ousted
From Hungary by Bill
Adopted Today

Jugo-Slav Government Demands Complete Disarmament of Hungary

BUDAPEST, Nov. 4.—Former Emperor Charles was dethroned and the Hapsburg dynasty was ousted from Hungary by a bill adopted by the Hungarian national assembly today. Count Stefan Bethlen, the premier, introduced the measure in the assembly yesterday and it was expected the debate would last for at least two days. Final action upon it, however, was taken today.

Act Inadequate

VIENNA, Nov. 4.—The Hapsburg dethronement act in Hungary is inadequate from the viewpoint of Austria and the little entente nations, as it failed expressly to exclude ex-King Charles and the other Hapsburgs from the elected kingship. It is declared neither Czech-Slovakia, nor Jugo-Slavia will demur.

The Belgrade government is reported to be preparing another note to the allies reiterating the demand for the complete disarmament of Hungary, with a representative of Jugo-Slavia heading a commission of control. The note also will ask the recognition of the right of entente for the mobilization and will assert that the Venetian agreement for the adjustment of the Burgenland dispute is unacceptable.

It has been understood here that Premier Bethlen of Hungary intended to resign when the dethronement act was passed.

Note to Entente Nations

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Diplomats for the execution of the Trianon treaty between Hungary and the allies intended for the most of calling Jugo-Slav soldiers to the colors and complete disarmament of Hungary, are made in the note to the entente nations by the Jugo-Slav government, a newspaper despatch from Belgrade.

Leave Switzerland

BERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 4.—Most of the members of former Emperor Charles' household have left Switzerland for Luxembourg, and the others will follow shortly. The only one who will remain is the former damsel, Archduchess Marie Theres, who is staying with the children of the ex-emperor and ex-empress at Berthelstein.

DILLON—Edward J. Dillon, a well known resident, died last night at St. John's hospital, aged 50 years. He was the son of Mrs. Edward J. Dillon, of this city, and Mrs. John J. Keating of Jamaica Plain, Mass. The body will be taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Edward J. Dillon, 259 Concord street, by Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.
